Q: Dialog box with multiple buttons on clicking a button I need a dialog box with multiple buttons. All the buttons to get redirect to different pages on clicking any button in the dialog box. I am unable to find a way to do this. Please help me out. Thanks in advance

A: Android Dialog Boxes is getting this content from the following link. To create a Dialog Box you should follow these 3 steps, 1) Create Dialog box layout 2) Specify an Dialog Box Layout through Dialog Box Constructor 3) Add buttons to Dialog Box through addButtons() Although there are two Dialog boxes from which you can choose like AlertDialog and Dialog (from Android API), AlertDialog is easy to use and has no set of functions to set different text for a textfield and some other controls from the built-in layout. Whereas Dialog is having a set of functions to set these type of things which are not found in alert dialog. So if you want to get an alert dialog box (in which you are not required to create UI) then AlertDialog is the only choice for you. Whereas if you want to create a dialog box (in which you are required to create UI) and have some other functionality then Dialog is the best choice for you. To create a Dialog with UI, just follow these steps, 1) Create
