What's New In?

Mouse Recorder Pro 2.0 is the ultimate recording solution that lets you use any software with multiple capture devices like mice, keyboards, gamepads, mobile phones, and cameras. Moreover, Mouse Recorder Pro supports not only USB, but also more than 30 different Bluetooth and IR capture devices. In addition, you are free to mix and match their corresponding drivers in the program's registry. Moreover, Mouse Recorder Pro 2.0 allows you to record audio, MIDI, and graphical data with the help of its integrated Virtual MIDI ports. In addition, you are permitted to tag each event in the recording, mix and match custom tags to differentiate them, and categorize events based on their source by using the built-in Event Type library. The result is an event log that is both informative and easy to navigate. You can simply click on the desired event and view its properties in the application's properties window to get to the source information about the capturing device, or audio source. For example, you can view information about the IR controller that sent the currently selected event to the recording file by selecting the corresponding color from the Event Type library. When recording an event with a mouse, you are not required to select a source, and the program will automatically select the best capturing device in the order of its priority. Moreover, Mouse Recorder Pro 2.0 lets you perform both simple and advanced event recording, and it can handle multiple recording sessions in a very easy and convenient manner. For example, you can create a new recording session and add an existing recording file to it. You can run the program and record a mouse event at the same time. You are also able to process custom tags, tag history, and batch events. All things considered, Mouse Recorder Pro 2.0 is the ultimate recording solution that lets you use any software with multiple capture devices like mice, keyboards, gamepads, mobile phones, and cameras.
